OBERSTADT THE MEDIEVAL CITY CENTRE

Ehre-Guta-Platz

This square's name goes back to an old legend: In the 15th century, an old woman named Guta heard members of a neighbouring tribe called the Appenzeller planning an attack on the city. She quickly warned the residents of Bregenz, who were able to fend off the attack. From then on, the city's night watchmen called out "Ehreguta" to honour her when the clock struck 9 in the evening during the winter.

St. Martin's Tower (Martinsturm) | Martinsgasse 3b

Martinsturm, or St. Martin's Tower, was built in 1601 and is said to be the first baroque building on Lake Constance. Its onion-shaped cupola is the largest of its kind in Central Europe. The landmark of Bregenz is open to visitors from May to October and offers both a marvellous view and an exhibit about the city's history.

Deuring Schlössle palace (Deuring Schlössle) | Ehre-Guta-Platz 4

At the far end of Ehre-Guta-Platz stands a building that is central to the character of the medieval city centre: the Deuring Schlössle. For 150 years, this palace was home to the Deurings, an aristocratic family from Vorarlberg. From 1989 to 2015, the listed building functioned as an upscale hotel and restaurant. Today, it is privately owned and can only be viewed from the outside.

Old Town Hall (Altes Rathaus) | Graf-Wilhelm-Straße 14

Between Graf-Wilhelm-Straße and Eponastraße, visitors can admire the Altes Rathaus, or Old Town Hall, which is the city's largest half-timbered building. Built in 1662, it served as the administrative centre of Bregenz until the 19th century. Today, it is a private residence.

OBERSTADT

CITY TOURS

Many of the landmarks in Bregenz are instantly recognizable. But it's worth taking a closer look – ideally with the help of a competent local guide. There are various themed tours throughout the year, and the city's night watchman offers tours of Oberstadt during the Advent season.

EXPLORERS' TRAIL

This roughly hour-long walk covering the history of Bregenz starts at the offices of Bregenz Tourismus & Stadtmarketing at Rathausstraße 35a 1. Cross Leutbühelplatz and take Maurachgasse towards Oberstadt. Here you see Martinsturm 2 with its impressive onion-shaped cupola. Continuing along medieval city walls over cobbled streets, head to Ehre-Guta-Platz 3 and the Deuring Schlössle 4. You can leave the historic city centre via the Meißnerstiege steps. The next stops are the Thalbach Monastery 5 and Parish Church of St. Gallus 6, which are connected by the Ernst-Volkman-Stiege steps. After arriving at the top, you can enjoy a fantastic view of the distinctive corner tower of the Deuring Schlössle. After a short walk from the Capuchin Monastery 7 along Gallusstraße, you come to Thurn-und-Taxis-Park 8, which is a listed heritage site thanks to its impressive tree population and rare plant species. The grand palace at the entrance of the park houses exhibitions of works by the artist association Berufsvereinigung Bildender Künstlerinnen und Künstler Vorarlbergs. Kirchstraße, with its small and charming shops, is the final leg of the tour on the way back to the Leutbühel district.

★ Inside tip – selfie spot: The narrowest building facade in Europe is located at Kirchstraße 29. Today, this building is home to GALERIE 9und20.

CHURCHES

Parish Church of St. Gallus (Pfarrkirche St. Gallus) | Kirchplatz 3

The name Pfarrkirche St. Gallus, or Parish Church of St. Gallus, goes back to the Irish monk Gallus, who came to Bregenz as a missionary in the year 610. The oldest parish church in the lowlands of Vorarlberg, it was first mentioned in official documents at the end of the 11th century. The interior of the church boasts magnificent plaster work and paintings. The left side chapel houses the silver altar, which is one of the most important pieces of baroque artwork in Vorarlberg.

Mehrerau Abbey (Kloster Mehrerau) | Mehrerauerstraße 66

Located just a stone's throw from Lake Constance is the Cistercian abbey Wettingen-Mehrerau, which provides a home and a place to work and pray for the monks. Tours of the abbey can be arranged in advance.

Sacred Heart Church (Herz-Jesu-Kirche) | Kolpingplatz 1

The 62-metre brick towers of Herz-Jesu-Kirche, or Church of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, can be seen from a long way off. One of the most remarkable facts surrounding this neo-Gothic church (built between 1905 and 1908) is that its construction was financed almost entirely by donations from the people of Bregenz.

Thalbach Abbey (Kloster Thalbach) | Thalbachgasse 10

Kloster Thalbach, or Thalbach Monastery, was built in its current form in 1675 by baroque architects Michael Thumb from Bezau and Michael Kuen from Bregenz and is a clerical centre that is known far beyond the borders of the diocese of Feldkirch.

Bregenz floating stage – Rigoletto in 2021

BREGENZ FESTIVAL

Every summer, the Bregenz Festival presents lakeside performances of high-profile operas under the clear night sky. Spectacular new stage designs are built every two years and gain international attention. The extensive and diverse programme also includes ambitious productions and world premieres at the Festspielhaus opera house and on the Werkstattbühne stage. Every year, some 200,000 visitors are enchanted by these magical performances. The festival started in 1946, when it was still called the “Bregenzer Festwoche”, or Bregenz Festival Week. Since then, the Wiener Symphoniker has served as the orchestra in residence for the lakeside festival every summer, wowing audiences from all over the world. A touch of Hollywood can still be felt around the festival grounds ever since Daniel Craig chased evildoers across the floating stage as 007 in Quantum of Solace.

CULTURE MILE ON KORNMARKTPLATZ

1 vorarlberg museum | Kornmarktplatz 1

Since its reopening in 2013, the museum has received a wide range of accolades for its concept and architecture. The museum aims to not only portray the past, but also highlight the present. Its focus is on archaeology, (art) history, and folklore. The permanent exhibit “Buchstäblich Vorarlberg” (Vorarlberg to the Letter) offers an original way of presenting the 160,000 objects on display, namely by arranging them in alphabetical order.

2 Theatre company (Vorarlberger Landestheater) | Seestraße 2

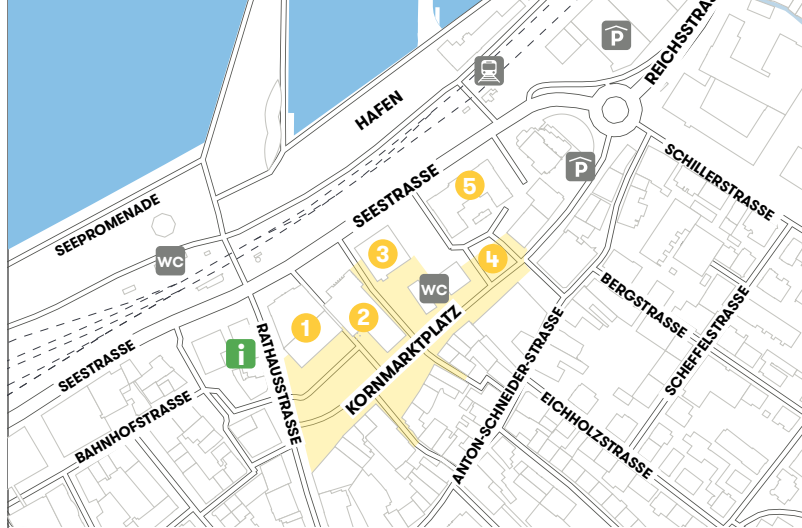

The culture mile surrounding Kornmarktplatz continues with the neighbouring Theater am Kornmarkt, home to productions by the Vorarlberger Landestheater theatre company. The programme features classical dramas, novel adaptations, debut performances, and world premieres.

3 Art museum (Kunsthaus Bregenz) | Karl-Tizian-Platz

With its clear glass facade, the KUB art museum is one of the architectural highlights in Bregenz. Regularly changing exhibitions of outstanding contemporary art attract visitors from all over the world. Artists are especially drawn to Peter Zumthor’s unique architecture – and the possibility to make use of an entire building. For this reason, many works are created specifically for Bregenz.

4 Nepomuk Chapel (Nepomukkapelle) | Nepomukgasse

In earlier times, the shores of Lake Constance extended all the way to the Kornmarkt. According to legend, Franz Wilhelm Haas nearly drowned at this location as a boy. As a gesture of thanks, he had this baroque chapel built in 1757 and dedicated it to Saint John of Nepomuk, who is considered a protector from floods and drowning.

5 Postamt | Seestraße 5

This magnificent post office building dates back to the year 1895. Besides housing the local post office and several offices, the building is also home to Bildraum Bodensee, a platform for artists from western Austria.

LAKE LIFE

SWIMMING AND BARBECUING

Strandbad Bregenz public swimming area | Strandweg 1

The first choice for families: The spacious sunbathing areas offer ample room to relax for visitors of all ages. There is plenty of variety, with paddling and kids' pools, slides, sport and multifunctional pools, as well as 400 metres of shoreline along Lake Constance featuring areas with sand and pebbles. There is also more than enough to do outside of the water – thanks to a playground, beach volleyball court, and table tennis tables.

Hallenbad Bregenz indoor pool and Vitalium | Strandweg 1

When the outdoor swimming season comes to an end, the fun continues right next door. The pool offers a protected children's area as well as cordoned off lanes for sporty swimmers. One floor above the pool is the Vitalium, which features Finnish saunas, a sanarium, a steam bath, a whirlpool, and a magnificent view of the lake.

Mili (former military pool) | Reichsstraße

A day spent at the Mili, the charming outdoor pool built on stilts, is gloriously nostalgic. The oldest bathing facility on Lake Constance, it was built in 1825 and was originally used to train recruits.

Wiking | Strandweg 40

A popular meeting place for swimmers, especially younger visitors, as it consists of a large grass area near the Wiking rowing club that is ideal for playing football or Frisbee. Beyond the harbour pool, the stone steps offer a bit more peace and quiet.

Neu Amerika | Neu Amerika

This two-kilometre stretch extending to Wocherhafen is a scenic area dotted with nature reserves and small bathing bays. Specially designated fire pits are provided for barbecuing. Stand-up paddleboarding

There is also a huge selection of trails for visitors who want to put some kilometres on their hiking boots. You can obtain a detailed hiking map at the tourist information centre at Rathausstraße 35a in Bregenz.

Känzele loop route (2:00 h)

The starting point for this loop route is the Gebhardsberg car park. Along with interesting geological aspects, this trail rewards hikers with a lovely view of the Rhine Valley. From spring to late autumn, you will often see climbers here as they scale the numerous routes up the cliffs of Känzele mountain.

Oberer Känzeleweg – Unterer Känzeleweg – Gebhardsberg

Oberstadt | Gebhardsberg | Fluh | Pfänder(1:45 h)

Another route up the Pfänder starts in the medieval city centre, Oberstadt. Starting from the Federal Monuments Authority Austria building, the route leads towards Gebhardsberg mountain and continues from there to Fluh mountain (743 m). Via the Walserstadel, Kälbelen, and Pfänderdohle mountains, the summit can be reached in about an hour and a half. It is also possible to take regional bus line 12c, which departs hourly, to the Fluh (get off at the “Pfänderweg” or “Gasthaus Adler” stop). The Gebhardsberg (596 m) and Fluh mountains are not just convenient stopovers on the way up the Pfänder, but are also well worth a visit in their own right.

Educational cheese trail (3-4:30 h)

A relaxing hike with no significant inclines. Along the way, a series of signs provide information about how cheese is manufactured.

It is especially attractive to climbers because it is easily accessible, offers panoramic views of the Rhine Valley, and its cliff side faces south, which means that it enjoys many hours of sunlight. The starting point is about a ten-minute walk from the Gebhardsberg car park. (Difficulty: B/C/D)

Unfortunately, climbing equipment is not available for hire on-site.

Gebhardsberg Schlossbergtrail

The Schlossbergtrail starts at the small park near the provincial library (Fluher Straße). EVENTS AND MARKETS

Events and festivals

Annual happenings help to create a rich and diverse event scene in Bregenz. One musical highlight is the three-day BREGENZ LIFE open-air festival held on Kornmarktplatz. The event series “Die Lange Nacht der Musik” (The Long Night of Music) hosts live music in Bregenz’s bars and restaurants throughout the year. In addition, the summer event calendar is rounded out by the “Hafenfest” harbour festival and the “Stadt der Kinder” (City of Children) festival. The year ends with a festive touch, as the first Christmas markets open in Leutbühel and on Kornmarktplatz in mid-November.

Markets

The region around Lake Constance provides optimal conditions for sustainable, organic agriculture and this makes for a fine selection of products at Bregenz’s weekly market, which is held every Tuesday and Friday. In addition, farmers from the region sell seasonal products along Kaiserstraße every Friday. The Leutbühel district is transformed into a marketplace every Saturday and also on Wednesdays from May to October. Themed markets are also held throughout the year, offering visitors fine Italian and regional specialities.
